Direct answer: Arbol Inc. is an independent New York-headquartered (445 Park Ave.) parametric climate-risk pricing platform and underwriting provider. Arbol builds automated pricing and payout engines using gridded climate datasets to transfer weather, hurricane, wildfire, and flood risks for corporates, agriculture, energy firms, and reinsurers.

What Arbol Models and Sells

Arbol operates an end-to-end parametric risk platform that combines high-resolution weather and climate datasets with automated trigger structuring, pricing, and smart-data settlement. Rather than selling passive portfolio software alone, Arbol originates parametric insurance and weather derivatives (reporting $2B+ in notional risk transferred across 15+ countries) and owns U.S. coastal homeowners insurer Lilypad / Centauri.
